SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES
Philanthropy is facing a pivotal moment.

How are we grappling with the stark realities of climate change and other environmental threats to our communities and health? How are we confronting systemic inequities and structural racism? How are we creating economic opportunities that allow people and places to thrive, regardless of their zip codes?
How can we turn ideals into action?

TFN brings together leaders in philanthropy to explore the strategies and stories that are creating more equitable, sustainable and resilient places to live.

For nearly two decades, we’ve worked with funders to build connections, deepen knowledge and better leverage their grantmaking impact.

TFN’s 2019 Annual Conference coincides with the network’s 20th anniversary, presenting a key opportunity to reflect on our past, explore the present and look forward to the future.

Our conference theme: Power Forward, a call to action for philanthropy to leverage the sector’s collective power to create communities and regions that are truly sustainable and just — work that has taken on new urgency as we face increasingly challenging times.
